Are the pods on the site compatible with my brewer?

CoffeeGIANT carries Universal pods, ESE pods and Mega pods. Universal pods are meant for use in most pod brewers, and can range in size from 7-9 grams, and 55-70 mm diameter. These will work in Grindmaster GPOD/OPOD, BUNN MyCafe MCA/MCP, SunCafe H701A, Wolfgang Puck CafeXpress Single/Dual Brewers, Senseo and Melitta pod brewers.

Pods

ESE Pods

ESE pods are meant for use in specialized espresso brewers (E.S.E. stands for Easy Serving Espresso). These are not compatible with standard soft pod brewers, as they are only 7 grams and 45 mm. Espresso pods enable anyone to produce rich, creamy espresso consistently and conveniently without guesswork or mess. Our E.S.E. standard size espresso coffee pods feature premium coffee that has been perfectly pre-ground, pre-measured and pre-tamped then sandwiched between two pieces of biodegradable filter paper. Each espresso pod that we carry is also individually wrapped for freshness and can be used in any espresso machine designed to accept E.S.E espresso pods.

Parks Coffee™ is roasted fresh every day and packaged here, in this very building.

Flavor that brings you back home.™

What is home, exactly? It's birthdays and lemonade stands and Mom's famous chocolate chip cookies. It's road trips and cookouts. And laughing with your best friends.

It's the soothing aroma of fresh-brewed coffee, coaxing you out of bed. That's what home means to us. And we want to share that feeling with the world. That's why we started Parks Coffee right in our own garage in Carrollton, TX. Over the years, we've grown to become one of America's premier coffee roasters. But we still pour the same love and attention into every batch of our hand-crafted coffee.

You'll see that each flavor has a little piece of our family's story roasted right in.
